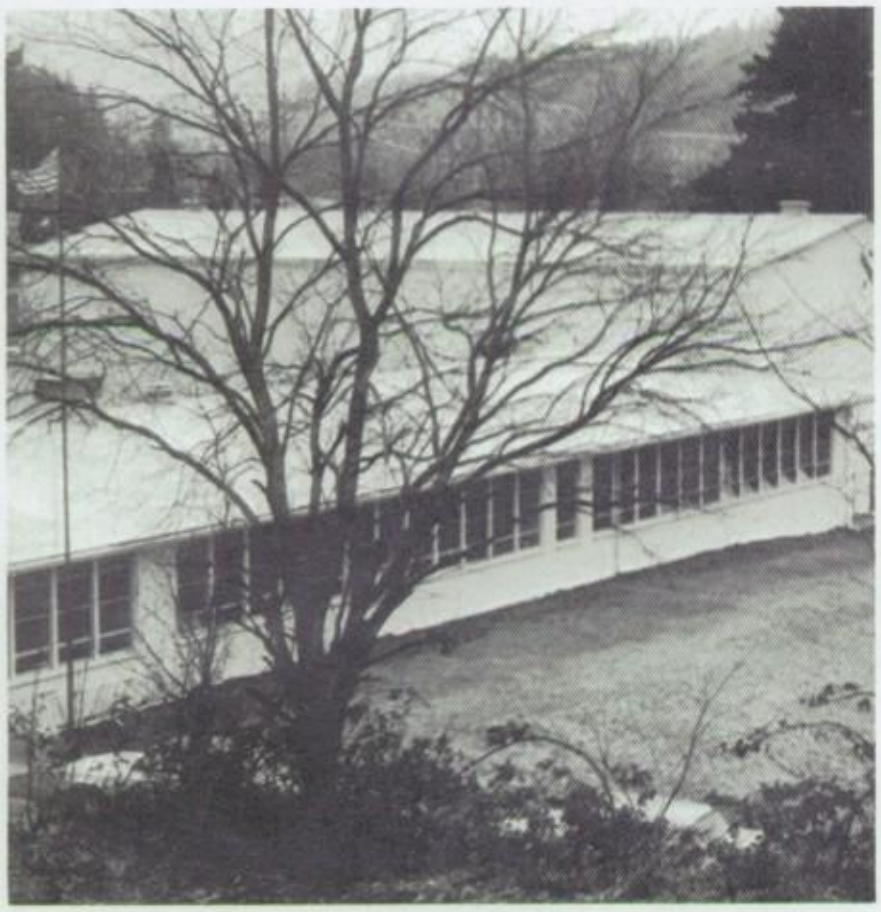
Cascade Locks Pirateer 1971



From the opening of school and the beginning of our journey, our travels took us through hard work and new friendships, through study and play, excitement and doldrums, all the things that school life involves. It is the hope of the Pirateer staff that in future years this book will be a reminder of the experiences and spirit of the 1970-71 journey.

Pirateer Dedication

In appreciation to the people who so readily gave their time and efforts in boosting our activities through the newly formed Booster Club, we dedicate our 1970-71 annual.

RIGHT: Mr. Roberts donated his time to repaint the Pirate scoreboard.

Bucs Split Season

Desire was the key to the Pirates' 4 - 4 league record, a step upward from former lean years. Highlights of the season were a homecoming win and a surprisingly close 28-20 fight against the number 2 state ranked Alsea Wolverines in a non-league match.

Coaching Staff Gets Boost

An extra "coach" was added to the staff this year as town policeman Tom Henderson donated many hours of his time as an aide to Coach Rogers Wheatley and assistant coach Ken Wittenberg in working out with the team. His interest, along with the Boosters' donation of goal posts and scoreboard, helped add spirit to the season.

LEFT: Nancy Johnson and Lorri Massey lead a chant. BELOW: Cascade Locks line gives protection while Todd Williams kicks another extra point.

The 71 season saw the JV's handing a record of 6 wins, 12 losses to Coach Rogers Wheatley. The five JV starters regularly filled in on varsity, and showed good prospects for future years. Highlight of the year was a one-point win over rival Wheeler in the last game of the season.

Pirates Take First Place

RIGHT: Pat Irving out-runs opponents for an easy lay-in.

"WE'RE NUMBER ONE!" Was the rallying cry during basketball season as the Pirate crew swept the league with only one defeat, to Culver. But the loss was avenged at the district meet with a resounding 80 - 63 score, and Cascade Locks sailed home victoriously with the district championship.

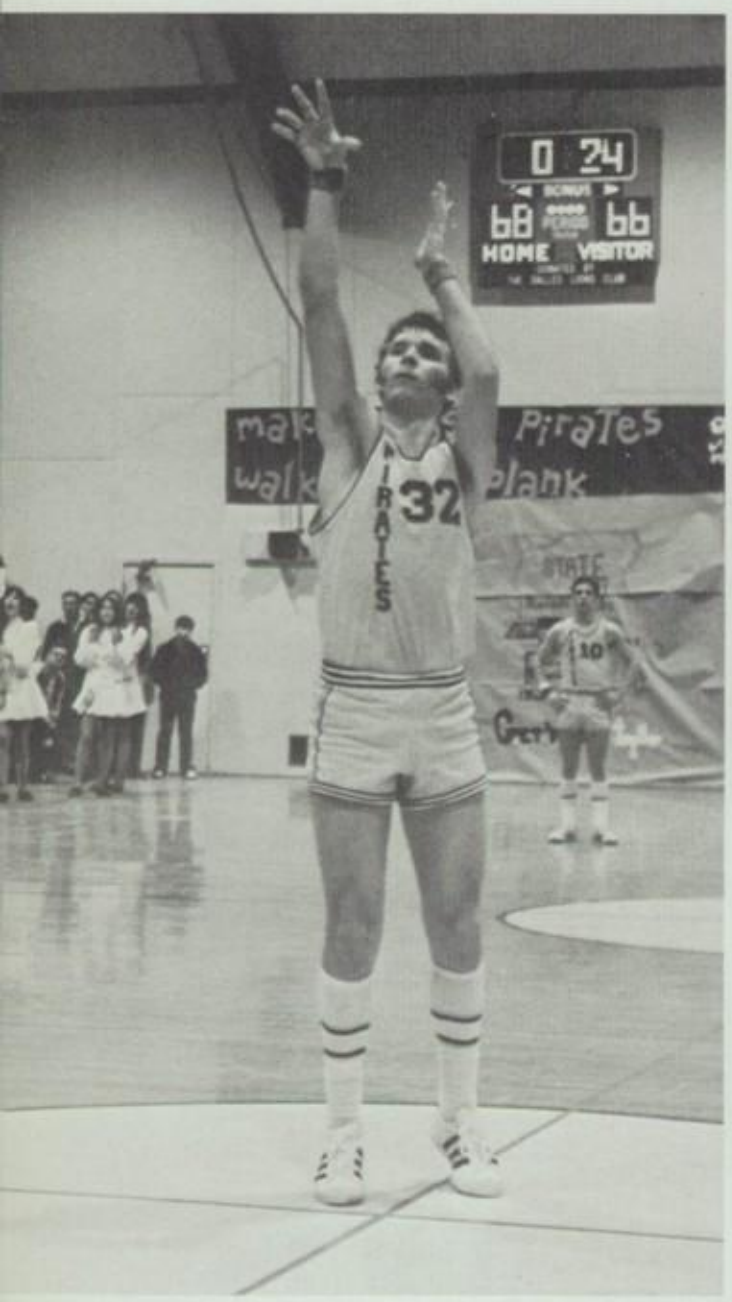
Pirates Miss State Trip

The end of the season brought cheers and tears as the Pirates cinched the district championship one week, only to lose their hopes of going to state at the regional meet the following week. Victories over Weston and Culver sent spirits soaring; a 75 - 66 upset by the Condon Blue Devils sent them crashing down.



ABOVE: Playing an inspired game against Weston, Greg Roberts seemed unable to miss at the free throw line. Note the scoreboard in the background. RIGHT: Star Phil Nolin, assisted by Mike Bump, get rebound from Culver.

Sometimes praised, sometimes neglected, often playing before a scanty audience, the volleyball girls nevertheless rode high to a co-championship in 1971, finishing a triumphant step above their second place the year before.

Dewayne Vaults At State Meet

Though the boys' track team was the smallest of several years, the season was still marked by several accomplishments. One member, Dewayne Back, competed in the pole vault at the state meet, and the school added a foam rubber jump pit and a new fiberglass pole to its track equipment.

The Pirate nine this year finished the season with a record of 4 wins and 8 losses. Two of the Pirates victories were because Wheeler dropped out of the league and they were not able to claim victory until the last contest of the season when they won a double-header against the J V team from Wahtonka.

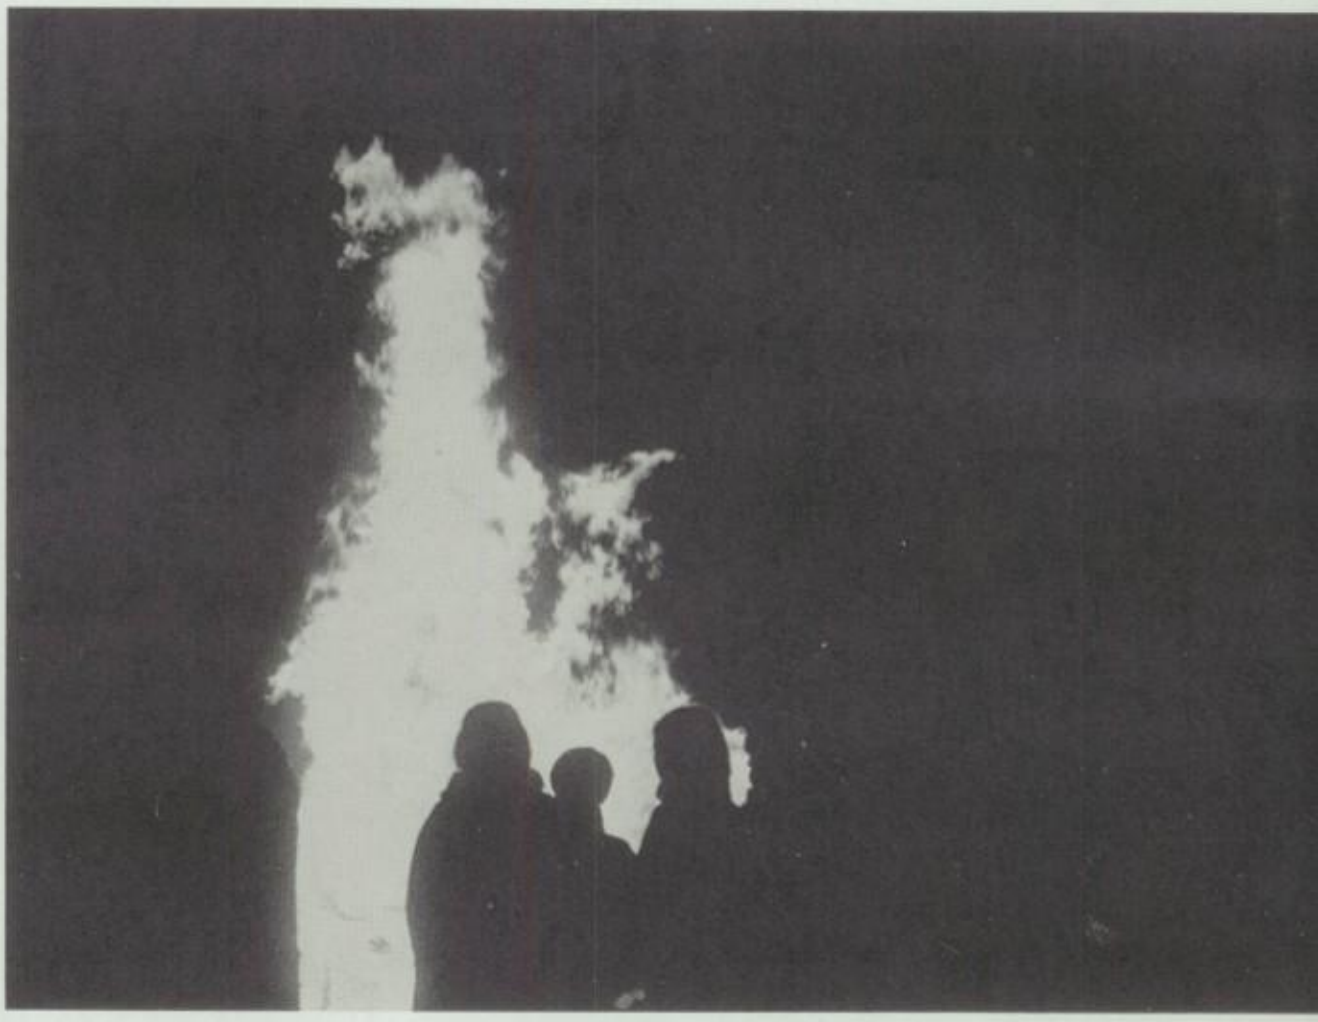
Activities Yield Enthusiasm Throughout The Year

Homecoming Spirit Soars

Blazing torches touched off the traditional bonfire and sparked spirit which mounted through the next day's parade and came to a fiery climax with the victory over Dufur, 41 - 31.



Second prize went to the freshman float.

The eighth grade rode away with first prize with this ship.

RIGHT: Pirates stop their opponents at twenty yard line.

Dressed in regal white and royal blue velvet, Queen Debbie and last year's Queen Jackie Johnson model their crowns.

Kookiest costumes won titles of Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae for Rod Neff and Susan Bausch.

Sadie Hawkins Tomfoolery

Turn about is fair play, and the annual Sadie Hawkins Day Dance gave the girls a chance to do the asking and the chasing. The race, mock wedding ceremonies, and back-woods costumes and decorations gave the affair a Dogpatch atmosphere, complete except for corn squeezin's and preserved turnips.

Pipe cleaner rings were a part of Marryin' Sam's wedding equipment.

Sweethearts Ball Says Love Me With All Your Heart

Nobody expected a blizzard the night of the Sweethearts Ball. Though cold outside, it was warm with in the heart of the pink and blue donned cafeteria. Twenty couples turned out to witness the crowning of Queen Lorri Massey by her King Pat Irving.

LEFT: Their Royal Majesties Lorri and Pat drink a toast to each other.

Dick Johnson stirs paint for the windmill. Decorations were built in just three days.

Along a cobblestone pathway, over a bridge, and into the ballroom, the couples came. The room, circled by a canal and featuring a twenty foot windmill, depicted the 1971 junior prom Holland theme, "Windmills of Your Mind."

Two queens shared the reigning of the royal affair. Members of the audience were as surprised as Nancy Johnson and her escort Mike Bump and Lois Arnesen and her date Todd Williams, when the tie in voting was announced.

Members of band from Mount Hood Community College took first place in Northwest Band Competition the following day.

Dewayne Back and Terri Shroy look thoughtful.

Tea and Tulips Mix

The tolling of 71 bells marked the beginning of the senior's countdown. The seniors spent a leisurely day preparing their meal, playing a few hands of blackjack, and then settled down to enjoy the product of their efforts. Honored guest were Mrs. Burger and Mrs. Hansen, class advisors.

Narrator Kathy Bump listens to class prophecy.

Begining with Countdown, the senior activities came to a climax with the Silver Tea, featuring fashions (it was a big year for velvet) and some fanciful thoughts of the future.

Three Dramas

Highlights of the year included two productions from the drama department. The full-length play, "The Curious Savage", was presented in the fall, and a combination of one-act dramas came in the spring.

RIGHT: Looking thoughtful is Nancy Dyer, who played the lead role of Mrs. Savage. Lorri Massey puts finishing touches on her make up. BELOW: Pat Irving, Peggy Back, and Myra Klapprich gather around Mrs. Savage's bear, which played an important part in the plot.

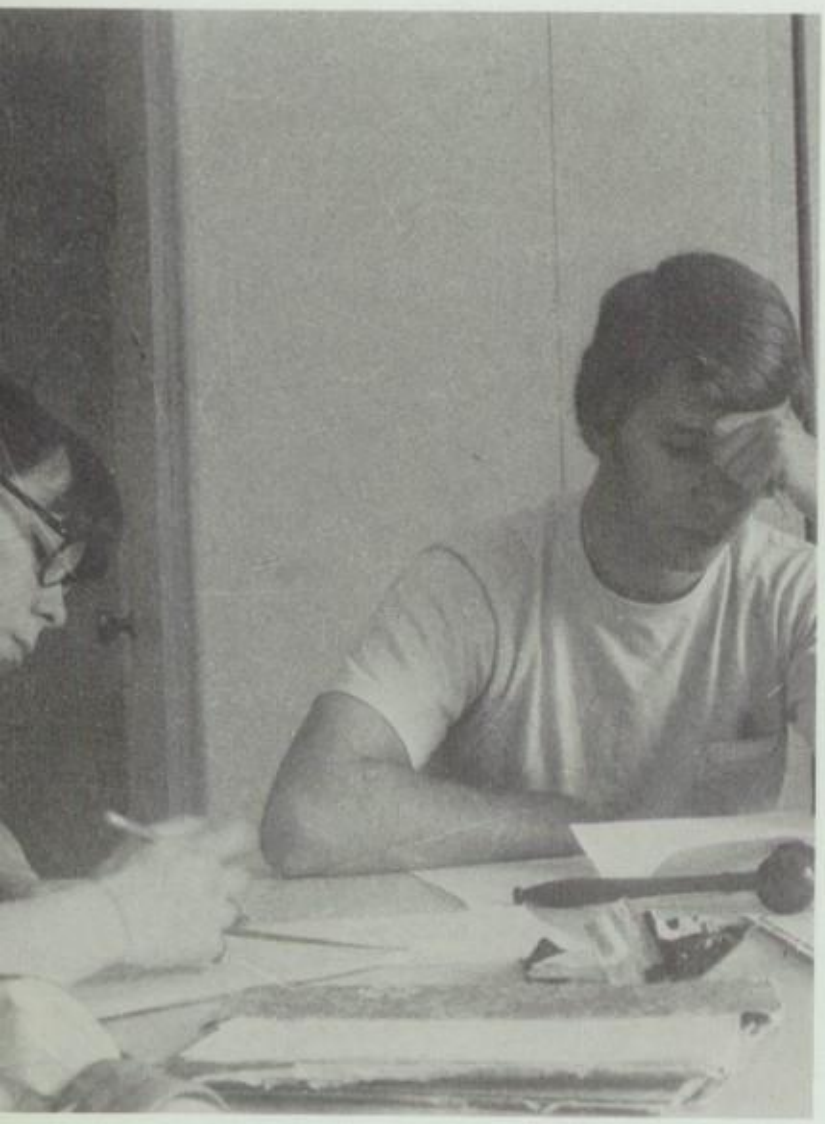
Organizations Give Leadership Practice

Constitution Topic For Change

Eligibility rules and a new awareness of procedure brought the Student Body Consititution under examination and started work on revisions to make it more up-to-date. Council members learned much about constitutionality and the problems involved in making a government work.



Secretary Debbie Busetti writes as President Greg Roberts ponders the problems under discussion.

Honor Society Reinstated

The Bridge of the Gods chapter of National Honor Society was reinstated into school life. The previous honor society had decided not to carry on, but under the direction of president Rose Rush, honor students picked up the pieces, rearranged some, and put the club back together. Rose was aided by her vice president Mike Bump and secretary-treasurer Dick Johnson. Students spent time finding, as was stated in their new pledge, the light of truth. After being judged on leadership, scholastic, character, and service abilities the ten member club was formally inducted in an initiation ceremony.

Donna Nichols, an alumnus of Cascade Locks' National Honor Society, was one of many who turned out for the occasion.

The girls' football game was the highlight of the GAA activities. Divided into blue and gold teams, and assisted by coaches from the Lettermen's Club, the girls' struggles proved that they can be just as tough as the boys. Well, almost.

Staffs Leave Treasurechest of Memories

The journey was logged every other week by a small but busy staff who regularly published more pages than it had staff members. The GORGE ECHO, edited by Lorri Massey, published 19 editions. Our paper widened this year to include some pictures for the sports section.

Juniors Have Many Projects

Money-raising was the main problem of the junior class as they looked forward to staging the annual junior prom. Although the class was unusually active in sports and school actitivies, they put forth extra effort to present weekly movies and cater the Lions' Club dinners to raise funds.
